

Product Formulation Certification

Five Star® products are well recognized as being formulated for premium performance. However, Five Star also believes it is critical that our products are easy to use safely and that we act as a good steward of the environment. Occasionally, customers will request we certify that Five Star® products contain or do not contain certain substances or classes of substances, and we will update this Technical Bulletin in response to requests.

No Five Star® products contain any of the following substances or classes of substances:

- Asbestos
- Polychlorinated Biphenyls
